LOOK TO

Sunset is now drawing near and soon twilight will fall over the campus of FAIRMONT WEST. Days and months have gone by as swiftly as the sun wings its way across the sky. As the sun makes its exit, its colors are as vivid and significant as the people, fun and memories shared this year. Each day was filled with exciting and meaningful events. To gaze back on these moments gives one a tingling feeling, as after a perfect day.

A dramatic sunset scene with a dark, silhouetted building in the foreground. The sky is filled with horizontal bands of orange and yellow light, reflecting on the water. The overall mood is serene and nostalgic.

For now a majestic aura of the sunset is captivated in the very hearts and minds of all. For a year and school on which a sun never set so beautifully—look to the most treasured year of your life . . . Look to Fairmont West, 1964.

Look to the West—these words hold significant meaning. In the early days of our country, the western horizon symbolized new life. Travelers going West left their homes, relatives, and friends to embark on the unknown. They had visions of adventure, excitement, and greater opportunities to enrich their lives, but they also knew there would be a great deal of hard work.

Today, we too, Look to the West as a symbol of opportunity. FAIRMONT WEST offers excitement and adventure in the form of thrilling sports events throughout the year. In the field of academics, she offers the chance for every one of her students to broaden his interests through her excellent curriculum.

Her extensive co-curricular program offers everything desired by her students from sports and debates to dramatic and social events. For all academic and co-curricular activities to run smoothly, teachers and students alike must exert hours of hard work together with co-operation and willingness to do a job well.

LOOK TO THE

Fairmont West's natural charm and scenic beauty is portrayed by Mr. Charles Power, industrial arts teacher, in his aerial view of the campus.

Two campus-style high schools adorn the countryside of the city of Kettering. As we "Look to the West" of Kettering, we see Fairmont West, a combination of symmetry and beauty.

Her enrollment of two thousand students is housed in her seven well-spaced and well-lighted buildings.

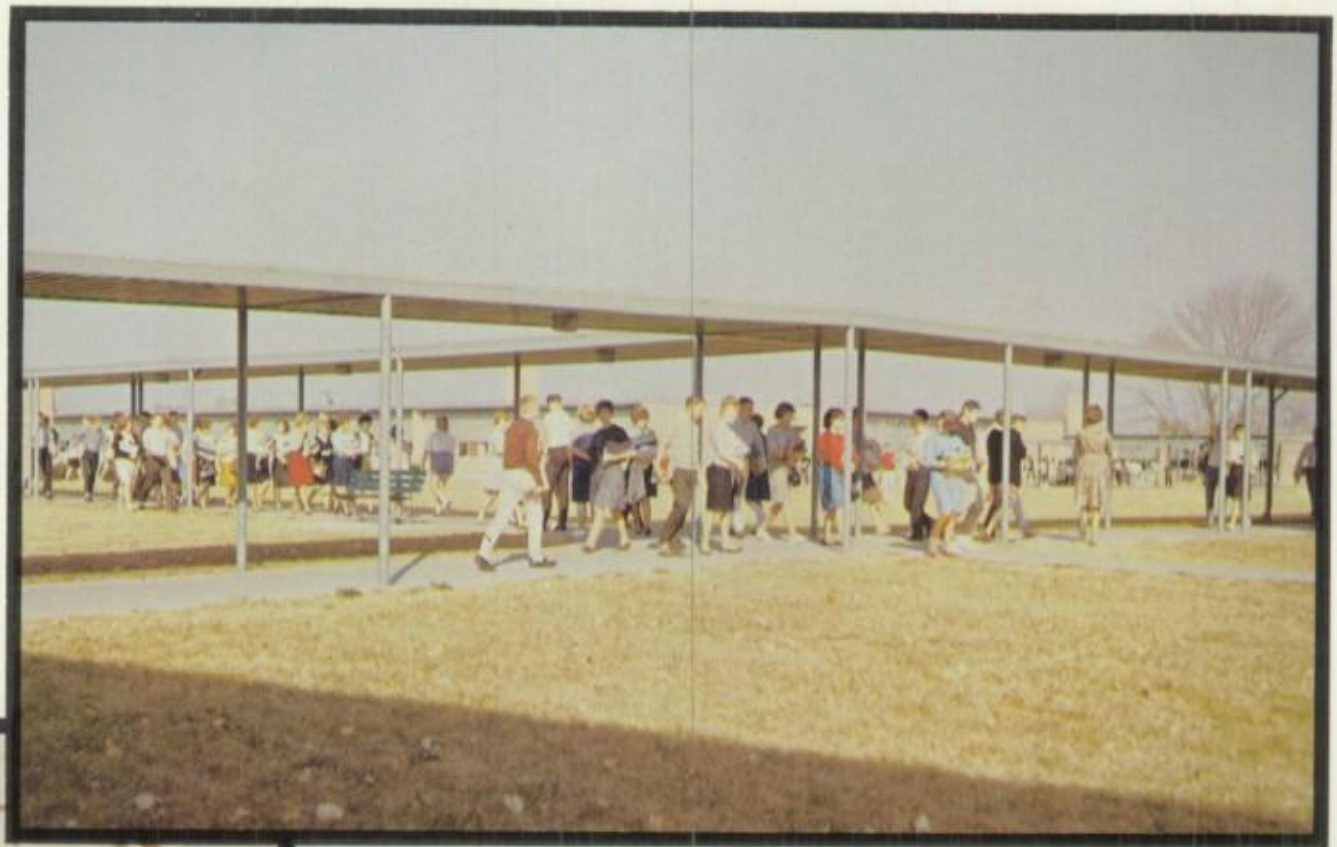

In taking a new name with the beginning of the 1963-1964 school year, FAIRMONT WEST took on new responsibilities, as well. For now she must uphold her honor and tradition against a new Kettering high school as well as her old rivals.

WEST

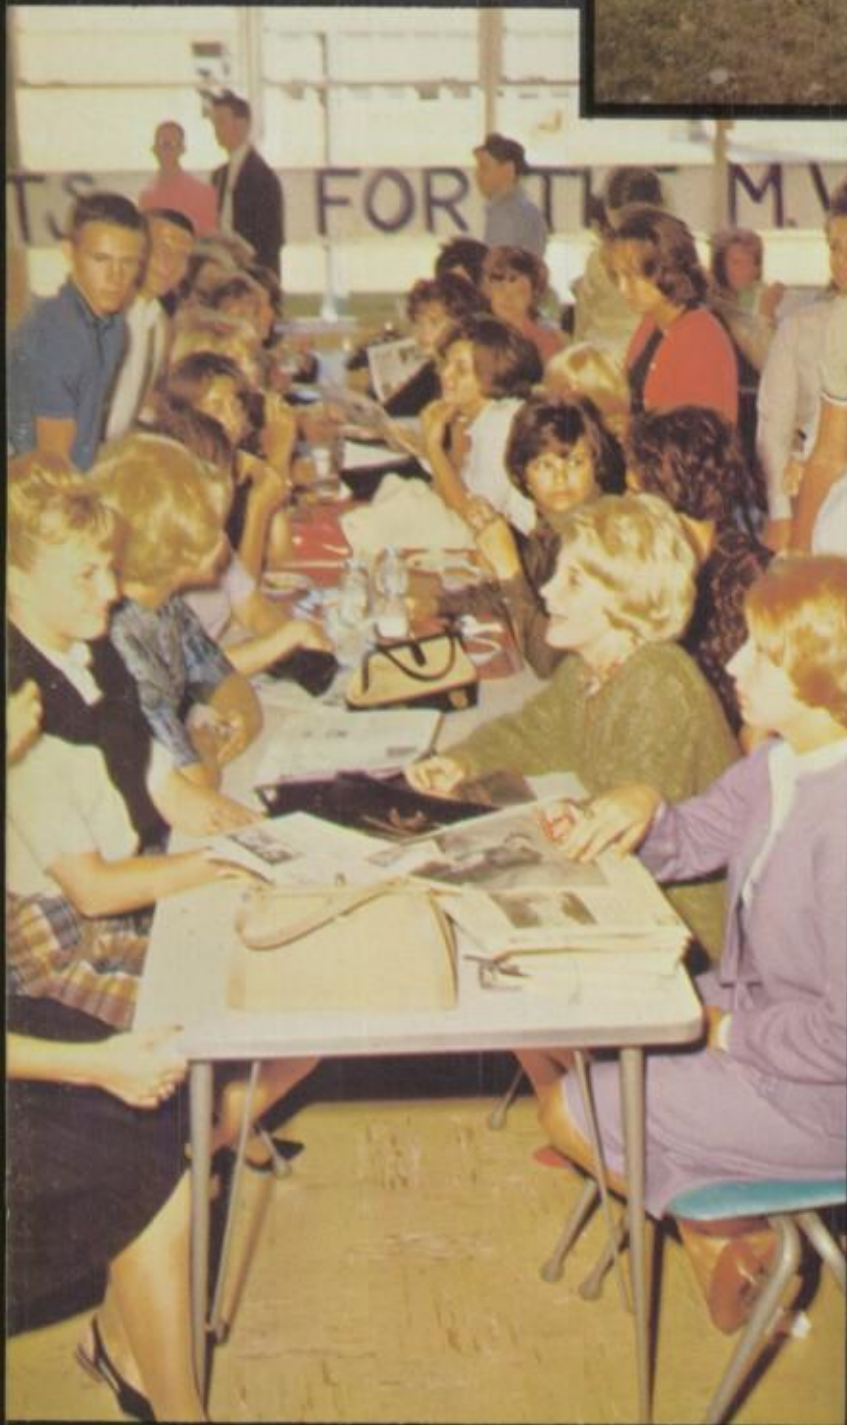

An addition to FAIRMONT WEST (to be completed this fall) will be the construction of the new running track, located west of the campus near Far Hills Avenue.

An interested public, a dedicated staff and a devoted student body have combined to make FAIRMONT WEST one of the finest and most respected high schools in the State of Ohio.

called Fairmont

Fairmont West is a marvelous combination of all phases of campus life. International flavor is brought to us by our foreign exchange student. Academic and sports life are, of course, important to a well-rounded personality. Casual life and outside activities help give respite from active schedules.

Victory prompted by enthusiasm

Boasting of strong school support is a great distinction for a high school.

FAIRMONT WEST is proudly able to make this boast. Enthusiasm in everything we do, makes life interesting. At FAIRMONT WEST school spirit is boosted by the enthusiasm as shown by our student body and cheerleaders. Sign painting and float decorating are also examples of strong spirit and school support.

Fun and hard work go hand in hand. Many hours of preparation go into the production of any event at FAIRMONT WEST. Long hours of marching and drilling are spent each week in readiness for the football games and are proven to be well worthwhile in the entertaining half-time shows provided by the band and Rhythmettes. Endless hours of practice must precede the hour of truth when our teams defend the honor and tradition of our alma mater. But the taste of victory and the knowledge of a pleasing show make every hour an hour well spent.

Playing a vital role in the total life of our student body are the many and varied activities. Each of these, whether it be musical, dramatic, social, or service, allows a student the opportunity to enrich his background, develop new and lasting friendships, and become an integral part of the life of his fellow classmates. It is for the enjoyment and benefit of the students of Fairmont West that these activities are planned and carried out.

1963 Homecoming — a night to remember

1963 Homecoming was truly a night to remember. Spirits soared as the Dragons defeated Fairborn, 20-6. During the gala half-time ceremonies, the Band and Rythmettes presented an outstanding performance. Ceremonies were highlighted by the crowning of Gloria Goode as the 1963 Homecoming Queen. Student Council's dance, "Moon River," climaxed the unforgettable evening.

Elated over the Homecoming Victory, Fairmontionians "could have danced all night."

Orchestra

Fairmont's orchestra provides entertainment for various activities throughout the school year. It performs in the annual Christmas assembly, before class plays, and in concerts with the chorus.

Most important event of the year for the orchestra is the operetta. Since January, they have spent many long hours of practice for this year's production of Bye Bye Birdie.

Under the excellent leadership of Mr. Donald Detrick, the orchestra presents outstanding performances and received a "superior" rating in the state contest.

Superior is the best adjective to describe the performance of the Fairmont West High School choruses.

Great variety in its P.T.A., winter, and spring concerts, a series of concerts during the Christmas season, high ratings in the district and state contests, and the presentation of the fine Broadway musical comedy, Bye Bye Birdie, were highlights of this year's program.

Under the direction of Mr. Gene Seeberger the chorus has established itself as one of the best vocal groups in the area and is a vital part of our student life.

Mr. Seeberger strives for that perfect blend of voices.

Members must try out to join the band and all work is done on a volunteer basis.

outstanding 7-2-1 record in 1963

Fairmont's 1963 season was a very impressive one. Along with a successful season, Fairmont had its share of bad luck, as was displayed in the Springfield game. As the season progressed it became apparent that the "Dragons" had become one of the "powerhouses" in the area, as well as the Miami Valley League. Dragons showed their awesome power by rolling over teams such as Chaminade, Xenia, Troy and many others.

This year's football team had great drive and spirit which enabled them to end the season as the M.V.L. champions. Since this was Fairmont's final year of the Miami Valley League this makes their accomplishment even more significant.

Hours of practice and many meetings of the coaches were responsible for a very successful season. Coaches are (kneeling) Fred Neer; Duane Thompson; Dick Hoppe; (standing) Terry Mallet; Bob Hildreth, head coach; and Buford Crager.

MIDDLETOWN

15,000 fans witnessed perhaps one of the most exciting games ever played at Baujan Field. Powerful offensive play of Middletown and sluggish defensive play of Fairmont led to a 20-0 score in favor of Middletown at half-time.

Second-half play was a complete reversal with the Dragons displaying superb offense as well as sustaining defense. Scoring for Fairmont in the second half was Jim Overholser on a nine-yard run, Rod Miller on a spectacular kick-off return for a 64 yard touchdown, followed by a 22 yard touchdown by Dave Mueller, a sparkling 64 yard touchdown by Larry Beatty, and a 30 yard touchdown pass from Overholser to Miller. Fairmont's defense left little to be desired and held Middletown to 14 points in the second half. Final score was a 34-34 tie.

SPRINGFIELD SOUTH

Fairmont traveled to Springfield South in the hope of defeating one of the top rated teams in the state. Dragon defense lived up to its expectations in the first-half, but the determined Wildcat defense proved to be its equal. As a result of this superb defensive play, neither team managed to score in the first half.

Powerful offensive play by Springfield was the determining factor in the second half. Shortly after the third period began, the Wildcats scored their first touchdown. Series of bad breaks prevented the Dragons from equalizing the score. Springfield went on to score twice in the fourth quarter, with Fairmont's being unable to muster a score. Final score was 22 to 0 in favor of Springfield South.

CHAMINADE

Combination of rugged offensive and defensive play on the part of Fairmont proved once again that the Dragons were superior to the Chaminade Eagles. Quarterback, Jim Overholser completed an 11 yard pass to Bob Withrow for the Dragons' first score. Overholser went to the air again and connected with John Hart for the extra two points. Half time score was 8-0 in favor of Fairmont.

Play moved very slowly for the Dragons and the Eagles throughout the third and most of the fourth quarter. Dave Mueller, in the latter part of the fourth quarter, blocked a Chaminade punt in their own end zone and added two more points to the Fairmont score. This resulted in an impressive 10-0 victory for the Dragons.

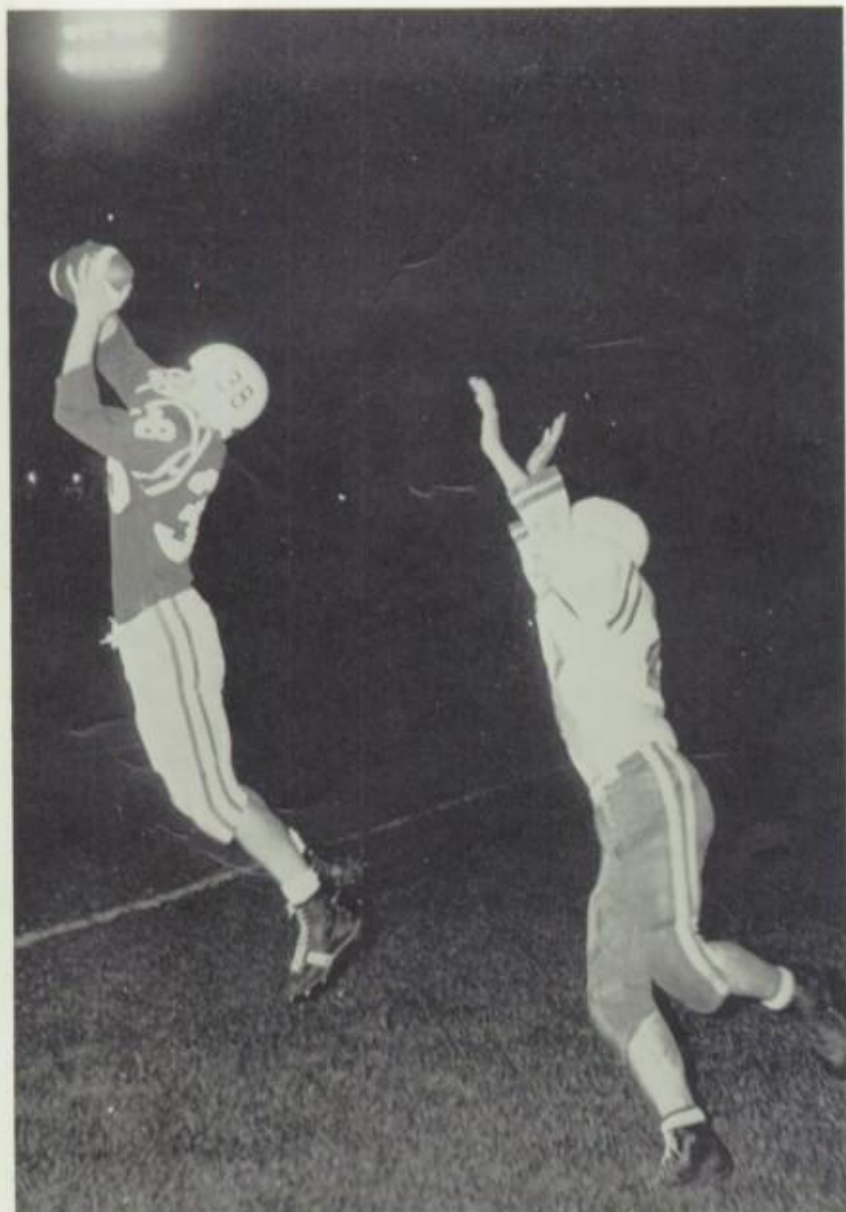

XENIA

Strong offense and unyielding defense was enough to insure a final victory for Fairmont at the expense of Xenia. Dragon offense clicked to the tune of 16 points in the first half. Fine offensive play of end, Rod Miller, and halfback, Larry Beatty, netted the Dragons their first two touchdowns. Dragon defense displayed sparkling exhibition, holding Xenia to a meager seven yards total in offense in the first-half. This resulted in no score for the Bucs.

Second half proved to be much the same for Fairmont with the Dragons rolling up 14 more points on two touchdown passes to Rod Miller from quarterback Jim Overholser. Bucs managed to squeeze out eight points in the last few minutes of the game. Dragons romped over Xenia 30-8.

Dragons improve with each game

GREENVILLE

After an impressive start in league play, the Dragons continued their winning ways by crushing Greenville 32-0. Fairmont's onslaught of scoring was begun by Larry Beatty when he dashed through a gaping hole for the first score. Fairmont went on to score two more touchdowns in the first half on a run by Dave Mueller and a pass from Overholser to Miller. First half ended in a score of 20-0 for Fairmont.

Second half play ran much the same as before with touchdowns by Dave Mueller and Marv Hill. Dragon defense was to be commended on its outstanding job of limiting Greenville to no score.

FAIRBORN

Homecoming was highlighted by an impressive victory over Fairborn. Scoring by Jim Overholser and Larry Beatty led the Dragons to a 14-6 lead at half time.

After allowing six points in the first half the Dragon defense settled down to business, allowing Fairborn practically no yardage in the second half. Fairmont's eight point lead was fattened further by a 10 yard touch-down run by Larry Beatty in the third quarter. Throughout the fourth quarter neither team could muster a score, but Fairmont's 20-6 lead was enough to win.

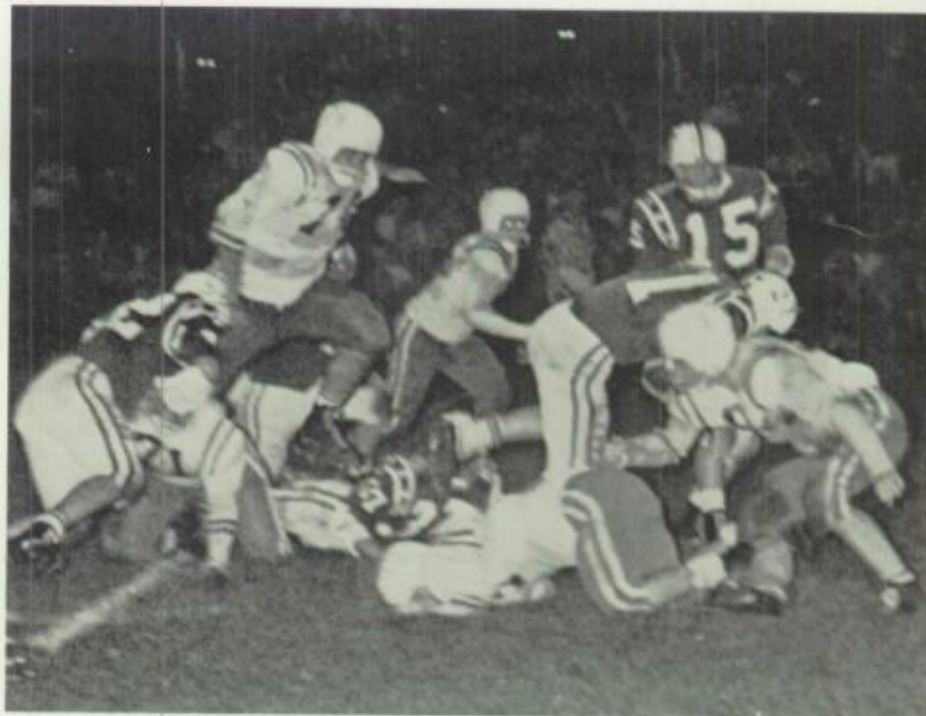

PIQUA

Piqua proved to be a surprisingly tough game for Fairmont, but the Dragons managed to hold on in the final minutes of the game to squeeze out a 12-8 win. Dragon offense had trouble adjusting to the stunning Piqua defense, the latter allowing Fairmont only six points in the first half. Piqua was able to score eight points before intermission.

Shortly after half-time the Dragons added six more points to their score and held off a very determined tribe of Piqua Indians in the final minutes of the game.

MIAMISBURG

Fairmont had its trouble with Miamisburg in the first half, but managed a 20-14 lead at intermission. Miamisburg's offense was more than the Dragons had anticipated, but Fairmont managed to pull ahead in the last few minutes of the half. Third quarter was quite a defensive battle which led to no score. In the fourth quarter the Dragons scored their final eight points and surged on to a 28-14 win.

TROY

Dragon defensive team was instrumental in handing the Troy Trojans a stunning 14-0 setback. Besides displaying good defense, the Dragons were very impressive, offensively. Although the Dragons only scored one touchdown in the first half, they penetrated deep into Trojan territory almost at will. Fairmont's first half touchdown was scored by Dave Mueller when he "bulled" over from the one-yard line.

As the second half resumed, the Dragons continued to dominate play. Midway in the third quarter, Jim Overholser hit halfback Hal Rogero with a pass good for a touchdown. This ended the scoring with the remainder of the game being a standoff.

Dragons end successful season

SIDNEY

Fairmont's aspiration of a clean sweep in Miami Valley League play was shattered by a determined Sidney team. As the first half came to a close the Dragons were holding on to a 20-14 lead, by virtue of two touchdowns by Rod Miller, and a spectacular 49 yard touchdown by Fairmont's Larry Beatty.

In the second half, Sidney managed to quell all of Fairmont's drives; and as a result of a superb bit of offense by Sidney, the Yellow-jackets scored eight points in the second half. These, added to their 14 previous points, allowed Sidney to squeak out a 22-20 win.

Rick Stoughton paces Fairmont's distance men around the Dragon cross country course.

Throughout the past season the Fairmont Dragons cross-country team has achieved honors paralleled by no former Fairmont team. This 1963-1964 cross-country team attained a nine and one record in their dual meets, and placed third in a field of 250 teams in state competition. This year most of Fairmont's cross-country records were shattered. Paul Gaffney broke the pending school record with an amazing time of nine minutes and 43 seconds in the two-mile run. Fairmont also proved to be indomitable in each of its larger meets, such as the Bowling Green and the Lowell Thomas Invitational and many other relays. This year's season, one of the most successful in the history of Fairmont, was recorded by this team.

As usual, Fairmont's cross-country men are off to a successful finish.

As the fall sports season came to a close, members of the football, cross-country teams, and the cheerleaders were given recognition for their accomplishments. On November 26, 1963, a banquet was held in the cafeteria, honoring the members participating in these sports. Entertainment of the evening was complemented by the speeches of the coaches. Presentation of the Miami Valley League trophies won by the football and cross-country teams high lighted the evening's festivities.

Fairmont's 1964 hoop season opened at Lima, where the Dragons lost to a scrappy Lima Senior team by the score of 53-52.

Next, Wilbur Wright fell victim to a very impressive "Dragon 5." Lack of height hurt the Dragons as they fell to the state's No. 1 team, Belmont, 67-52. Against Fairmont's perennial rival, Chaminade, the Dragon's outscored the Eagles by 13 points with a score of 60-47.

Great second-half play by Hamilton Garfield proved to be the determining factor in their victory over the Dragons. Determination and good rebounding by Fairmont helped insure a 76-57 victory over Northmont.

During the Christmas Holidays the Dragons encountered very stiff opposition in the championship playoff game against Oakwood. This loss, coupled with their tournament victory over Beaver Creek, enabled the Dragons to cop second place in the Annual Kettering Holiday Tournament.

Teamwork and hustle spell success

Fairmont started off Miami Valley League Play by a 77-55 victory over the startled Xenia Buccaneers. During the following week the Dragons played host to a spirited Greenville team. This game resulted in a slim victory for the Dragons, 60-59. Highly-rated Middletown, who was expected to run the Dragons off the floor, were very much surprised by the never-ending hustle of the Dragons. Middletown was lucky to escape with a 79-77 overtime victory.

Fairmont then returned to their winning ways by trouncing the Fairborn Flyers 80-69, for the Dragons' third league win. Piqua was easy prey for the Dragons, who showed their true potential with excellent rebounding, and accurate foul shooting.

Fairmont's MVL championship aspirations were crushed by combined defeats at the hands of Miamisburg and Troy. Regaining lost poise, the Dragons retaliated by defeating Sidney and Kiser by scores of 45-40 and 91-56, respectively.

Able coaching of John Stuckey and his assistant John Forbeck have led the Dragons to a winning season.

DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

As the district tournament commenced, the Dragons looked forward to many successes. Fairmont started off the tourney with a victory over Wilmington 88-66. A combination of good offense and sustaining defense was the deciding factor of this game. Two nights later, the Dragons duplicated their precision ball handling by defeating arch-rival, Xenia by the score of 67-44. However, cold shooting from the floor and many turn-overs proved to be fatal to the Dragons as Belmont ended our district championship hopes 73-44.

After winning the state championship last year, this team's prominence has steadily risen to a position of pride at Fairmont.

To compliment the fine record of achievements the boys team has attained, a girls team was established and is progressing rapidly. This tremendous stride forward for the gymnastics team is a direct result of coach Don Perry's excellent teaching and guidance.

Spirit, sacrifice, and skill combined to give the 1964 varsity hockey team its eighth undefeated season. Hard practice, encouragement from their new coach, Miss Erbaugh, and the desire to continue the winning ways of previous Fairmont teams, spurred this year's team on to victory. Determined to have another unmarred record, the team triumphed over Centerville, Madison, West Carrollton and Wayne. Next came the high point of the season—the game with Oakwood. Through the years, the rivalry between these two teams has continued to mount, making this the biggest game of the year. After a hard-fought battle, the game ended with a 1-1 deadlock.

Following the game with Oakwood, the Dragonettes faced Northridge. This game remained scoreless and ended in a 0-0 tie. Lebanon was the last to meet defeat at the hands of the spirited Dragonettes, thus completing fifty-eight undefeated games.

Reserves, ending their season with only one defeat, give reason to believe that next year's team will continue to make opponents "Look to the West."

Encouragement from the bench urged the team to victory.

spirit . . . lead to 6-1 season

Fairmont's Interscholastic Volleyball team completed another very fine season, marred by only one defeat at the hands of the Oakwood Jills.

After this game the team's spirits began to dwindle. However, because of the determination of their coach, Miss Moritz, the team worked hard to defeat this situation, as was shown in the hard fought game with Fairmont East.

Since this was the first time these two teams had ever met, and because some of the East girls had been on West's team last year, the pressure was tremendous. However, the Dragonettes proved themselves the better team and defeated East in two very close games. After this the Dragonettes went on to conquer all other opponents, ending their season with a 6-1 record.

Undefeated reserves, leave high hopes for next year's team.

Teamwork, time, and toil were the three contributing factors which led this year's girls' interscholastic basketball team to a most successful season. Under the guidance and direction of the new coach, Miss Forman, the team developed a keen sense of sportsmanship and desire to win. One of the high points of the season was the game with Oakwood in which the team combined skill in shooting and rebounding to defeat the Jills by a score of 27-24.

Reserves also displayed their ability to "Look to the West," which is evidenced in their fine record.

Fairmont West's unique system of administration retains the advantages of a small school in a large institution offering a wide variety of studies. Unit supervisors can keep close contact with the students of their building and perform the duties of administration on a smaller scale. Smooth operation of the whole school is directed by the responsible principal and his assistant. Fine performance of the administrative staff insures the well-being of the present and future classes at Fairmont West.

More than sports, club participation, and other extracurricular activities, the academic life forms the real heart of Fairmont West. From a wide diversity of courses, a student may select the program that will best prepare him for his life beyond high school, whether in business, industry, or training for a profession. Many students receive tangible honors as proof of their growth in learning. Yet the greater evidence of a student's achievement comes later in life in the measure of his success. Teachers, guides in the exploration of knowledge, influence the lives of their pupils far more than many of them realize. Behind their roles as educators lie years of college work and specialized training. An excellent faculty and a comprehensive curriculum make Fairmont West the outstanding institution of education it is today.

of students and faculty

To our school's many students, our service staff is a vital part of Fairmont West. Keeping the grounds in first-class shape and maintaining the good condition of the buildings are just a few of the services performed by the custodians. Efficient planning and preparation mark the daily routine of the cafeteria staff. To these people who perform these often thankless jobs, we are deeply grateful.

Carolyn Smith looks forward to a year in Germany.

For the second year Fairmont West is participating in the American Field Service exchange students program. Carlos Couto of Brazil, our adopted Fairmontonian, is a member of the Junior Council on World Affairs and an enthusiastic football spectator, and enjoys attending high school in America.

Carolyn Smith was chosen for the Americans Abroad program of the American Field Service to live in Germany for her senior year. As a temporary member of the Zanella-Foritto family of Neumuenster, she has visited Berlin and other parts of Germany.

For her participation in Fairmont West's Junior Council on World Affairs as Vice President and other activities, Kathy Edwards received the Huffman Foundation Junior Ambassador Award. As winner of the Dayton Council on World Affairs-sponsored competition, she will spend ten weeks this summer in her chosen country, Japan.

facility

Words have been man's best tool of communication for centuries. Mastery of the basic skills of reading, spelling, and grammar is the foundation of creative expression.

English and speech courses enable students to analyze and organize facts and ideas, and to communicate them with color and clarity.

Knowledge and appreciation of the fine literature of the past and the present widens and enriches a student's understanding of history and of the contemporary world.

Language and social studies courses foster international viewpoint

Steve Dixon and Linda Deebel practice voting techniques during a local election.

Civil War comes to life in Mr. Stuckey's American history class.

New recording equipment in the language laboratory is efficient and easy to operate.

Through Fairmont West's excellent language department we can better learn to understand and communicate with other people of this world. Courses in Latin, French, Spanish, and German are available to all Fairmont West students. With the help of a modern language laboratory it is possible to learn the correct pronunciation and sequence of words as well as the rules of grammar.

International relations are furthered by a thorough knowledge of social studies; world geography and world history are available to all students, but American history, civics, and economics or sociology are requirements for graduation. These courses will develop social and civic responsibility to community, nation and world. Study of foreign languages and social studies will cultivate tolerance for other nationalities, races, and opinions.

Janie Wainwright admires a colorful social studies display on national parks.

Construction of three-dimensional figures gives students a better understanding of solid geometry.

Practical application of principles

Chemistry experiments intrigue Christine Rasnor, Cheri Rowland, and Jack Yost.

Extensively equipped laboratories make science courses more rewarding.

Practical experience combined with theory is the foundation for Fairmont West's Science department. Biology, chemistry, physics, and Science II courses offer the students more information about the world around them, and gives college-bound students a good scientific background.

Fairmont West's mathematic courses stress the importance of arithmetic in life. Algebra I is the foundation upon which the other high school mathematics courses, plane geometry, Algebra II, trigonometry, solid geometry, are built. These courses enable students to achieve a better understanding of mathematical concepts pertaining to everyday living.

Each student's ability is challenged by the opportunities of exploration offered to him by the science and mathematic courses. Modern teaching aids and advanced techniques help the teacher demonstrate and explain the many aspects of math and science.

Putting theory into practice clarifies geometry problems.

prepare students for future vocations

Improving her technique in operating business machines is Jean Oehrtman.

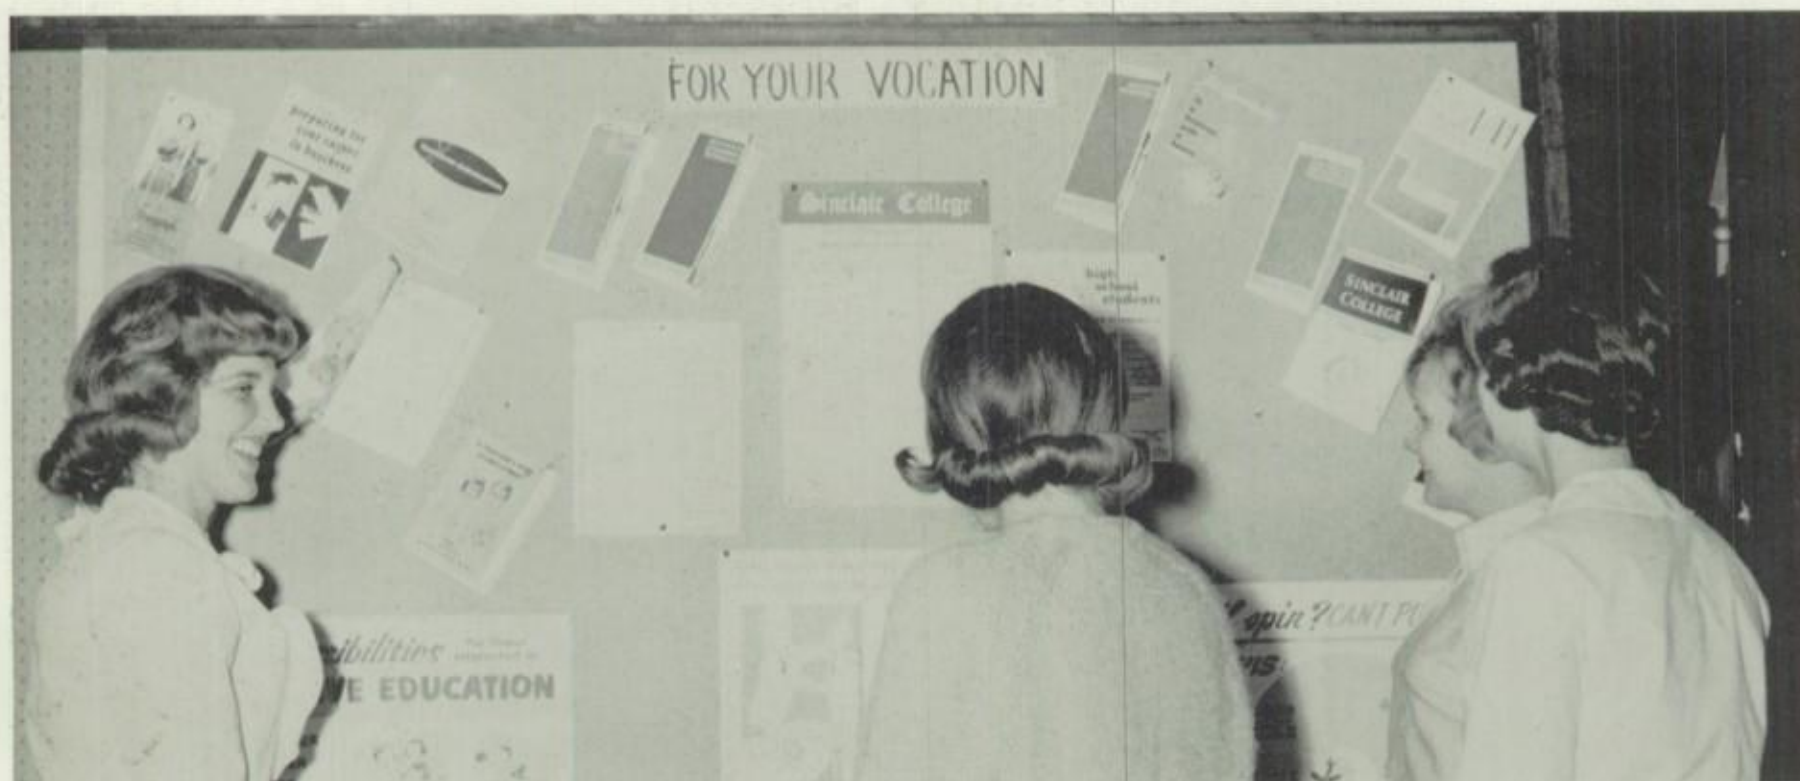

Comprehensive programs for the student planning a business or industrial career are available at Fairmont West. A vocational plan may be laid out to enable an individual to attain a high degree of proficiency in his chosen field. Opportunities for employment for such trained persons are much improved.

Courses included in industrial arts cover drafting, metals, electronics, transportation, woodworking, machine shop, and graphic arts. Extensive modern equipment facilitates thorough understanding and mastery of techniques.

Secretaries and office workers of tomorrow receive advanced instruction in many areas. Bookkeeping, typing, shorthand, record keeping, office practice, and business law are all part of Fairmont West's commercial curriculum. Qualified seniors may participate in Cooperative Office Education, consisting of school in the morning and clerical work in local offices during the afternoon.

Employers appreciate the knowledge and skill of Fairmont West's graduates majoring in vocational fields.

Students check bulletin boards for helpful information on colleges and careers.

Self-enrichment and development stressed

Performance on the balance beam is part of a gymnastics session in physical education.

Individual abilities are measured and tested in both physical education and vocational guidance. Building a sound body parallels planning a bright future at Fairmont West. Despite their widely varying backgrounds, counseling and physical education have a common goal—the development of the individual to his greatest capacity.

Well-arranged music display attracts CLASS OFFICERS: James Overholser, President; Carol Daugherty, Social Chairman; Dianne Coughlin, Secretary; Janet Bach, Treasurer; Steve Logan, Vice President.

To seniors at Fairmont West High School, their final year is looked upon not only as the climax to three years of hard work and study but also as a beckoning to the future—a future faced with confidence gained from experience. Memories are filled with scenes of sporting events, plays, operettas, speeches, clubs, and the warm and friendly atmosphere of fellow classmates. Though they graduate as the last and largest class of Fairmont West High School and leave the school forever, their spirit remains enshrined in Fairmont's tradition for always.

CLASS OFFICERS: Robert Viets, President; Janet King, Secretary; Fredricka Gaffney, Social Chairman; Nancy Ballis, Treasurer; Gregg Snyder, Vice President.

Inexperience, awe, frustration, and perhaps trepidation, with these mixed emotions the class of 1966 approached the outset of their high school career at Fairmont West. As the first sophomore class of our new school, the opportunities for the development of tradition, and the responsibility for the perpetuation of the fine achievements of the past are presented to them as their challenge for the future. Their growth will represent the growth of the school.

An evening on campus will often find a meeting of one of Fairmont West's numerous and diversified organizations in session. Whether it be a scan of future careers, a search into the realms of science, the cultivation of a foreign language, the provision of a needed service to the school, or just fun and friendship it always offers the student body an opportunity to acquire experience in leadership and a feeling of satisfaction for outstanding achievements.

LEADERSHIP

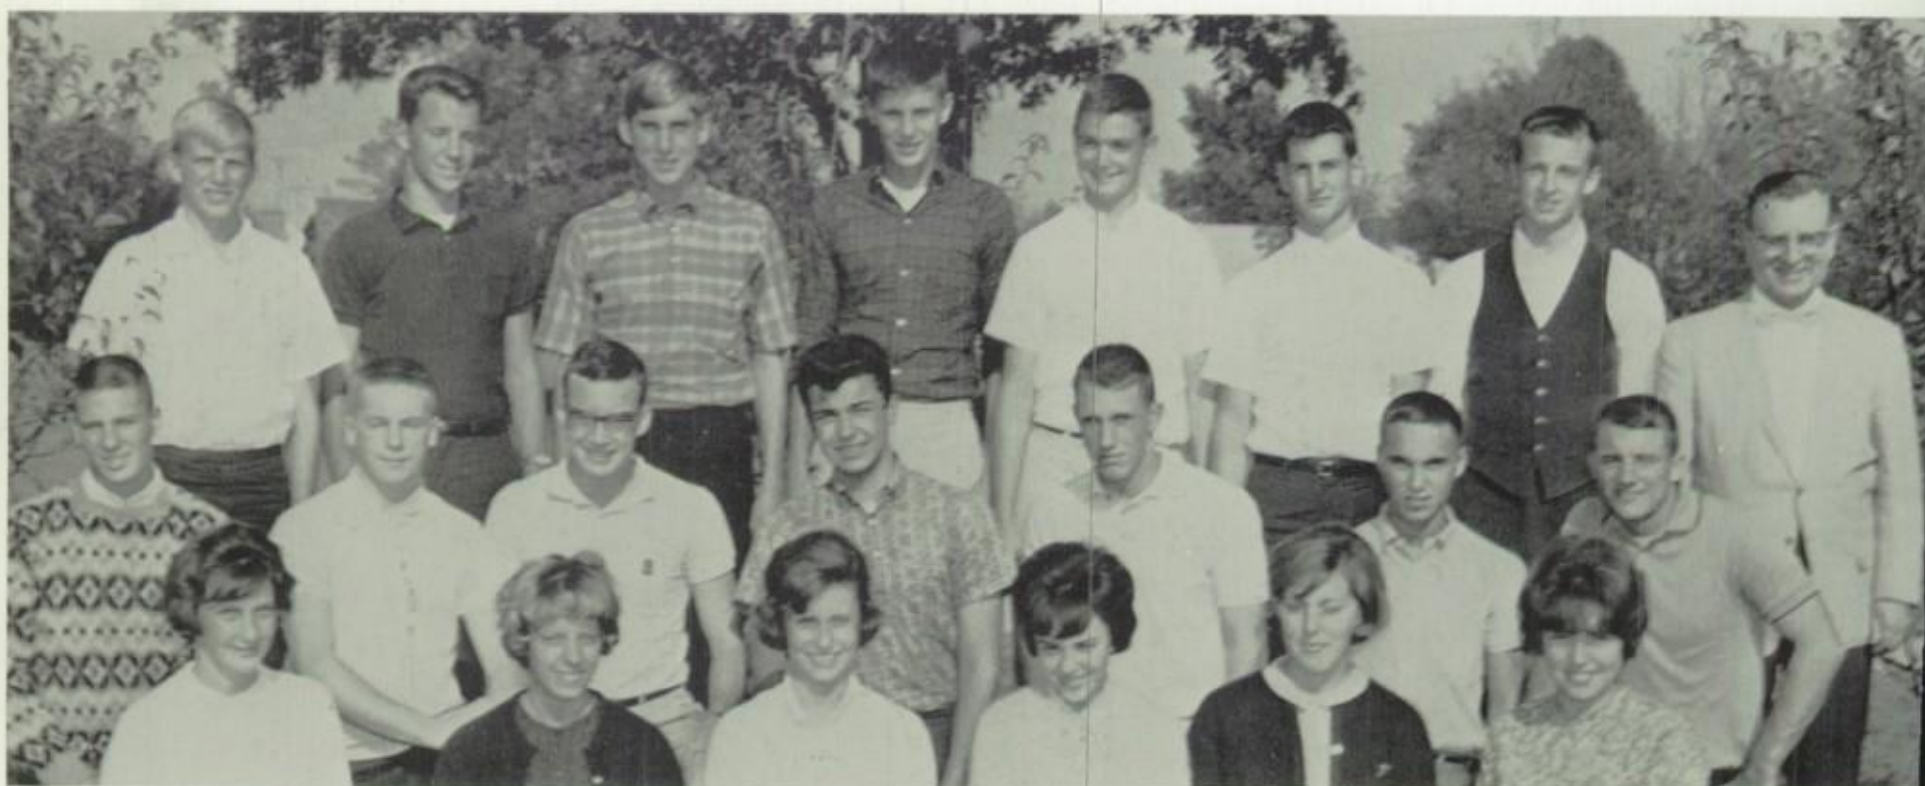

Student Council members discuss plans for the Sportsmanship Code and their annual dance.

Student Council represents fellow classmates

Officers Bryant Welch, Gloria Goode, Larkin Allen, and Dave Minnick coordinate homecoming activities for the Fairborn football game.

"We the students of Fairmont West High School, in order to encourage a better school spirit, to develop student responsibility, to prepare ourselves more fully for co-operation in our national democracy, and to bring about a closer relationship between the faculty and the student body . . ." With this quotation of purpose in mind, the Student Council has done a great deal to promote the general welfare of the student body. Ably led by Larkin Allen, president, and adviser, Mr. Zaremski, the Fairmont West Student Council undertook such tasks as gala homecoming festivities, orientation of new students, and underclass elections. Countless smaller services for both the faculty and the students provided this organization with another highly successful year.

Selection to the National Honor Society is the achieved goal of the dedicated student.

Enter to learn; go forth to serve

In the life of a National Honor Society member, four words describe his activities—scholarship, character, leadership, and service—for it is high standing in, and balance among, each of these four areas that has made him a member.

Because each member has many other varied activities and responsibilities, the meetings of Torch and Keystone are few but meaningful. For the first time, tapping of new senior members occurs in January, and tapping of new junior members takes place as usual in April. Both the tapping and induction ceremonies are quite impressive and inspirational. Other annual events include the Christmas dinner party and the spring picnic. Mr. Wagner is doing a tremendous job in his first year as adviser.

Fairmont West's chapter of the Junior Council on World Affairs is one of the largest organizations on campus. It is quite active in the promotion of interest in current events.

Programming is wide and varied in this group. Guest speakers included such prominent men as Senator Charles Whalen of the state legislature and Mr. James Fain, editor of one of the local daily papers. United Nations Week activities were climaxed by a "hootenany" to raise money for UNICEF. High School Institute, Mock General Assembly, and the study trip to Washington, D. C., are other highlights of this outstanding year.

Que parlez-vous? le français'. With an unusually large membership, French Club endeavors to make the language live for students by sponsoring activities in the spirit of France. This year French Club was split into two divisions: a civilization group with Miss Heitzman as adviser and a conversation group with Miss Warren as adviser. Members of the club could choose the group they preferred. French Club was highlighted this year by the movie "Désiré," the annual carnival, a picnic with French foods, and many fascinating speakers.

President, Nan Thorton, assisted by officers Nancy Silas and Beverly Barr, conduct a business meeting in the auditorium preceding a movie.

Roman parties were never like this! So it would seem to an observer of the Latin Club banquet in May. Favorites on the menu are those prepared for the club's bakesale.

But culinary techniques are not the sole topic of concern. Each Latin class is in charge of one meeting throughout the year. With the help of advisers, Miss Davis and Mr. Monnin, they provide discussions of ancient Rome, songs and other activities all with a touch of gaiety.

No, old Rome was never like this!

Culture and conversation dominate Spanish club

To the student of the language, Spanish Club is a prominent supplementary part of his study. Emphasis is placed on conversational Spanish and customs and cultures of these people in an attempt to gain an appreciation and understanding of our many Spanish-speaking neighbors.

Programming is planned to provide the elementary, intermediate, and the advanced students with something of interest and usefulness. Activities include speakers who use the native tongue, folk dancing, travel films, a Christmas party complete with piñata, and a dinner with all the Spanish trimmings.

During the annual Spanish Club Christmas party, members wait anxiously for Ruth Ann Young to break the piñata.

Acquiring German cultural habits and enjoying their pastimes are the primary functions of "Deutscher Verein." Highlighting this year's activities is the annual Christmas party. Many of the members also go caroling during the holiday season. Fairmont East's German Club entertained the two organizations at a dinner party. Meetings are supplemented by films, speakers, and the singing of German songs ably led by the club's adviser Mr. Risley. Final event for the German Club is a farewell picnic held at Hill and Dales Park.

Members of the Russian Club are faced with a responsibility and a challenge. Being the newest of our language clubs, the members must organize and promote its activities. As a language, Russian is one of the most difficult, and the members have volunteered themselves to the task of learning its basic concepts.

Club meetings occur once a month. Alternating meetings are devoted to the study of customs and cultures, and to the study of the language for conversational purposes, ably led by their Russian speaking adviser, Miss Davis. The climax of the year is the Russian banquet prepared and eaten by the members.

Russian Club members listen attentively to customs and cultures.

National Forensic League has had a bonanza year in '63-'64. Membership reached a record-breaking ninety-eight. Memberships and degrees past the two hundred mark form the largest chapter in Ohio.

For the first time in Fairmont history a student will win the double ruby—Kathleen Sohl with five hundred points by the year's end.

Degrees of Distinction (250 points or more) enroll Richard Batts, Donna Ecton, Michael Finigan, Larry Harzinski, William Hildebrand, David Miller, Joyce Northup, Sharon Ruhly, Jan Trenholm, Gary Walsh, Bryant Welch, William Weismann, and Lauralyn Woolf. To this distinguished list the names of twenty other speech students who earned degrees of excellence (150 or more points) should be added.

Words are their business

Debate at Fairmont West is equally as important as it was to Cicero in his day. But the topics have certainly changed.

This year's official topic was "Resolved: That Social Security should be extended to include complete medical care."

Debaters must thoroughly acquaint themselves with the topic. Research is done to substantiate the affirmative or negative contentions. Those in the affirmative must not only show the status quo inadequate, but provide a new plan. Negative must defend the present plan.

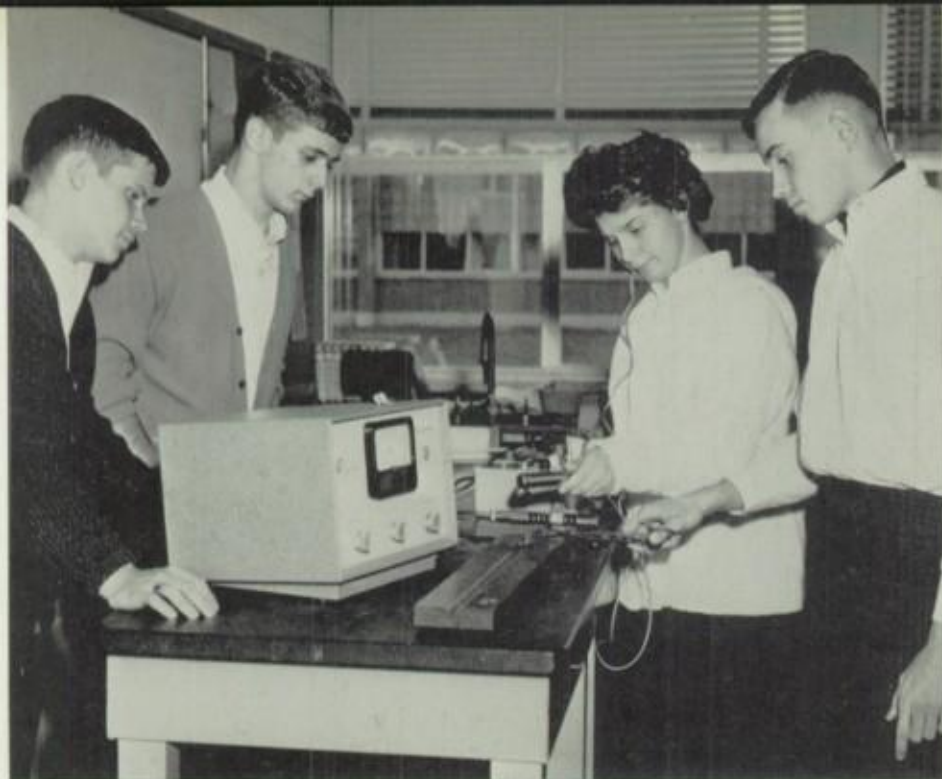

Hours of research and planning bear fruit at the frequent Saturday debate tournaments. All and all, it makes for an activity that would amaze even Cicero.

Jan Trenholm turns to her props to make a point at a practice debate with Wilbur Wright.

Debaters dig deeply and work long hours to prepare for their rigorous sessions.

Fairmont West's F.B.L.A.'s objective is to promote business interest on the high school level and to encourage further business education. In order to accomplish this purpose, F.B.L.A. sells candy bars, pens, and sponsors a dance after a December basketball game. Members accumulating at least fifteen points are eligible to attend the state convention in Cincinnati and the district meeting at Dunbar. Annual events are Dress Right Week and the popular fashion show in April. F.B.L.A. is privileged to have Miss Gallagher, Mrs. Nolan, Mr. Lower and Mr. McKinley as its advisers. Fairmont's chapter is proud that its president, Carol Bellar, is Vice President of the State F.B.L.A. Organization.

FMC furnishes practical experience

Wide range of activities characterizes Future Medical Careers. The members tour area hospitals to increase their knowledge of the various opportunities open to them there. Their many service projects include candy at Halloween for the children of Shawen Acres. During the Christmas season they spread joy by giving gifts to the children at Barney Hospital. Providing community service by collecting for muscular dystrophy is an important part of their program. The main purpose is to acquaint the members with realistic situations through area speakers, visitations, films and panel discussions.

Saturday seminars satisfy science students

Pat O'Brien and Nancy Murray prepare cultures for further microscopic study.

Each Saturday morning from nine to twelve finds sixty science-minded students pursuing deeper knowledge in the fields of chemistry, physics, and biology.

Chemistry seminar is a course designed to allow the student to explore and also to develop better lab techniques under the guidance of Mr. Tackett. Freedom to progress at one's own rate and the ability to work without being under pressure make this an ideal setup for those interested.

Dwelling on a few primary aspects in the physics seminar, major projects planned by Mr. Kludy are worked on by partners for several sessions. Beginning the allotted twenty weeks with studies of momentum, succeeding projects include construction of a Bell speech synthesizer to artificially reproduce sounds, studies in light, physical optics, and some work on magnetic fields.

Division into two areas forms the distinction of biology seminar. One exercise in learning of biological processes is the study of how these occurrences happen and the techniques to be applied in measuring these phenomenon. Mr. Graves presents a problem to the class and they are to solve it. The other division, headed by Mr. Hinds, is in the field of plants. Bio-techniques in tissue staining, preparing cultures, and making permanent slides prepare those enrolled for advanced study in college lab courses.

Students interested in the field of chemistry further their knowledge through the seminar.

For sixty Fairmont students of French, six weeks of their summer will be spent in a memorable combination of study and sight-seeing in Europe. Departing from the John F. Kennedy Airport on June 19 for Geneva, Switzerland, they then travel to nearby Leysin where they are to attend school for one month. Side trips to nearby cities are available each weekend, although all are visiting Geneva and the Castle of Chillon with their chaperones, Miss Warren, Miss Wygant, Mrs. Githens, and Mr. and Mrs. Bolender. A majority are spending a week touring Rome, Milan, Pisa, Florence, and Venice. Once in twenty-five years the Swiss National Fair is held, and this year many in the group will see it in Lausanne. Before embarking for Paris in mid-July, Mont Blanc, the highest of the Alps, will provide a wonderful day's sight-seeing in traveling on a suspension railway. After three days in Paris with visits to Versailles, the Louvre, and other renowned landmarks, their boat debarks for four days in London. After seeing the Tower of London, Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey, and watching a Shakespearian play at Stratford, they return to New York on July 25.

Also this summer for more than twenty-five West students interested in Spanish, the University of Madrid will be home for six weeks. Leaving New York on June 19, the group flies to London, along with their chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Monnin, where they spend four days. After sights including the Houses of Parliament, Picadilly Circus, and Hyde Park, they sail for Paris for three days in that city. Then on to Madrid where they are to attend school during the week, and make a side trip each weekend. A trip to Palma on the isle of Majorca, an excursion to historic Toledo, three days visiting Barcelona on the Costa Brava by the Mediterranean, and enchantment in the city of Granada, are to provide fascinating memories they will never forget. Return trip to Kettering will not be uneventful, for they are spending three days in New York to see the World's Fair.

Dain DeVeny, Beth Nolan, Dee Ann Kinkade, Jim Serianni, and Martha Rish prepare for their trips abroad by studying travel folders and rates of currency changes.

Meeting deadlines is an important and sometimes hectic experience for staff members. Many last minute changes and perfections are made and final proofreadings are given to all pages.

As the year draws to a close, the staff anxiously awaits the final product of their months of work and planning. We are very proud of the Medalist Rating of the 1963 Dragon, and our hopes are high that the 1964 Dragon will be equally as good if not better.

Intramural bowling, one of the most popular GAA activities, is comprised of more members than any other sport.

Sports' enthusiasts are provided with many activities

To the great number of GAA members, physical fitness is not for the boys alone. Field hockey, volleyball, basketball, softball, and tennis are all participated in on the interscholastic level, while the intramural program provides these, plus bowling, fencing, and table tennis.

Enjoyment of sports is not this organization's only function. Annual events such as the Christmas party, a semi-formal dance, a skating party, and a trip to Coney Island encourage social life as an important activity.

Pins, trophies, and a GAA letter are awarded annually to girls who have demonstrated excellence throughout the year. A special trophy is presented to the senior girl who has participated in the most club activities during her three years at Fairmont.

GAA Board members, Sarah Wagner, Leslie Nelson, Gloria Goode, Diane Coughlin, and Joan Tanner display the variety of stimulating sports offered by the Girl's Athletic Association.

Varsity "F" Club — a credit to sports

Fairmont West is proud of the high standards it has attained in interscholastic athletics.

Lettermen of these highly productive teams are eligible for membership in the Varsity "F" Club. Letters can be earned in football, cross country, basketball, wrestling, gymnastics, track, tennis, baseball, and golf.

This organization promotes the selling of programs at football and basketball games as well as other money-making projects.

To familiarize sports fans with the basketball players, Varsity "F" members sell programs.

Concluding game of the football season is traditionally followed by a dance sponsored by the club.

Pep Club sparks spirit

Pep Club helps spur Fairmont's school spirit as is evident in this pep rally.

Pep Club officers Kathy Golob, Jayne Fitzpatrick, Jill Irvin, Donna Ecton, Debbie Nash, and Penney Banks help boost team morale by painting signs for the halls.

Mark Stachler's bomb leads the parade of school spirit for Pep Club's caravan to University of Dayton for the Chaminade game.

Janet Hill, Julie Braden, Mary Green, and Metrisha Turner serve the school by decorating unit lobbies.

With a set goal in mind, Y-Teen members strive to grow as a person, to grow in friendship with people of all races and nationalities, and to grow in the knowledge of God.

Programs for interested girls are varied. They include a speaker who explains and demonstrates various judo holds, visits to a synagogue and the city mission, hanging of the greens at the YWCA, making Christmas favors for the hospitals, and having foreign exchange students as guest speakers.

Under the excellent supervision of Mrs. Homer, Miss Neumark, and Miss Bensinger, Y-Teens enjoy fun, service, and fellowship.

With an attitude of good will, fun, and friendship among its members, Alpha Phi maintains its position as the largest and as an exceedingly active Hi-Y.

Service to the school and community is carried out by the adoption of needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, collections for muscular dystrophy, and participation in Youth in Government Day.

Basketball teams, picnics, parties, and dances round out another successful year with Mr. Donald McClain as adviser.

Kappa Beta serves community

Service to the school and community is the primary objective of Hi-Y. Carrying out the collection for the muscular dystrophy campaign, the adoption of a needy family, and numerous smaller but vitally important projects definitely showed Kappa Beta Hi-Y to be one of Fairmont's finest service organizations.

Hi-Y is not all work, however, as members of Kappa Beta will attest after participating in the sponsorship of a homecoming queen candidate, a hayride, a Christmas party, a dance, and a holiday Hi-Y basketball tournament.

Practicing the Hi-Y's purpose to "create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school, and community high standards of Christian character," Theta is a working example of the finest in YMCA programs. Work projects, including collections for muscular dystrophy, the participation in "Youth in Government Day," and discussing topics from various phases of living offer each member a chance for personal character growth.

Advised by Mr. Donald McClain, times of relaxation find these Hi-Yers on hayrides, at dances, selling victory cards, and participating in sporting events.

Theta Hi-Y boosts school spirit

Theta members find it difficult to build a pyramid in the Kettering YMCA swimming pool.

Preparing for Muscular Dystrophy collections, Richie Wick, president, distributes packet to fellow officers, Charles Downing, Dan McGohan, Paul Davis, and Larry Wick.

One of Fairmont's outstanding service organizations is the Junior Red Cross. Activities include work at the Veteran's Administration Building, where they hold three parties, complete with gay decorations, for the men staying there.

Also on the agenda is a chapter-wide council meeting at the downtown office of the Junior Red Cross, sponsored by Fairmont West's association. Preparation of a chest for disaster areas rounds out the helpful, industrious activities promoted by these active members.

Wise Fools encourage lively thinking

Wise Fools Club is the closest thing Fairmont West has to the Greek scholars of ancient times whose thoughts, discussions, and philosophies did much to shape the history of the world.

This club may not shape the history of the world, but it does stimulate the thinking of all those involved. Lively discussions on religion, politics, current affairs, literature, and the fine arts, trips to plays, and the friendly and informal atmosphere are open to all with an interest.

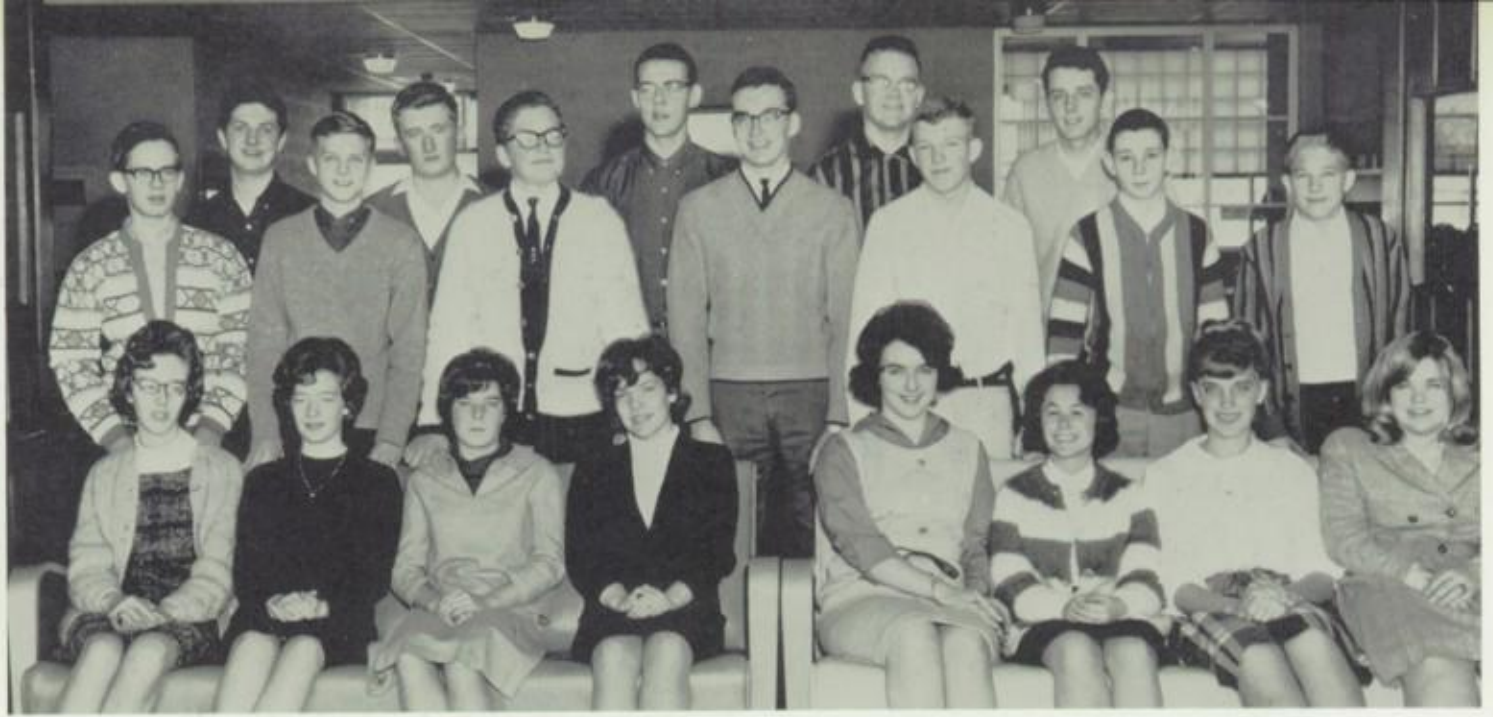

Unlike the Greek scholars, anyone can be a Wise Fool.

Mrs. Johnson, assisted by members Mike Finigan and Sally Kindrick, leads a panel discussion on the book Lord of the Flies.

Reverend Nead from Fairmont Presbyterian Church, guest speaker for the Wise Fools Club, leads an animated, informal talk with club members.

Junior Achievers — leaders of tomorrow

Through Junior Achievement, teenagers are given the opportunity to learn about business in the American system of free enterprise. Members set up their own companies and sell stock to earn their operating capital. Regulation and control of the companies are under the supervision of elected officers. Guidance is given by professional businessmen provided by the local sponsoring industry. Outstanding this year is the radio and television programs conducted at the WLW studios.

Junior Achievement is more than formal education; it is a practical learning experience in the world of business. From among its ranks will come the men and women who will lead our nation to the economic success it has always enjoyed.

Radio and TV announcing provide interesting and profitable experience for Junior Achievers, Dick Corwin, Rick Mosier and Diana Bass.

Y.F.C. offers inspiration and fellowship

Greg Hochstettler entertains club members with an animated story of 'Twas the Night Before Christmas.

Youth for Christ, organized under national and area supervision, serves as an interdenominational fellowship of Christian youth for the purpose of sharing their religious faith.

Meetings usually consist of speakers or discussion groups, and the great number of outside activities adds special appeal to the program. Service projects, parties and picnics, Teen Olympics, rallies, speech and music contests with scholarship prizes, camping, quiz teams, and radio broadcasts keep members active and interested.

Youth for Christ officers Greg Hochstettler, Dan Stevens, Joyce Lowder, Betsy Fox, and Sylvia Kniess pause for a few moments to select songs for the next meeting.

Chess team competes in city league

Participation in the "sport of kings" offers a great mental challenge to the members of chess club. Logical thinking, daring, and alertness are vital factors to success in this game. Reasons for membership in this club vary from a quest for keen competition to a receiving of a sense of relaxation.

Membership is open to all with an interest and participants must survive many a challenge to play on the active team. This team has entered a league, and like all of our school teams, ranks high in the standings.

Doug Leonard and Bill Horton keep their game in shape by constant practice while David Burns, Dick Leff, and Art Hertz kibitz.

David Burns, Art Hertz, and Mr. Sims survey the schedule and match scores of the "Fighting Fairmont Dragon" chess team.

Developed to give students an opportunity to view the vast field of photography and its many uses, the photography club is one of several interest groups on campus. Members participate by sharing their common interests in this subject.

Talks and demonstrations on topics such as the chemistry of photography or the developing process, open discussions, and field trips compose most of the year's program. Since several members do some semi-professional work and the rest also experiment in camera techniques, the display case in the industrial arts building is filled with pictures demonstrating their abilities.

"Flash" Kibler is Fairmont's "candid man" around campus.

Norman Kern and Louis Waller experiment in Fairmont's "dark room" for better development of pictures.

Winter driving means extra caution to Safety Club members John Maulkwell, Barbara Rheubel, Barb Grohoski, Ramonde Nicely, Yondal Combs, and Dan Martin.

Safety comes first

A new service organization at Fairmont, the Safety Club, is trying to promote a sense of safety in the school and community. Interesting speakers and various projects concerned with safety are aimed at promoting the goal of a better attitude toward automobile safety. Kettering police sponsored "Safety Check," held in the Spring, was designed to encourage the use of safety features in cars. Their main objective is to make more aware adult drivers.

Bulletin board articles remind Yondall Combs, John Maulkwell, and Raymond Nicely that safety is a must.

Safety Club adviser, Mr. Hoppe, shows President Barb Grohoski how to test Dan Martin's reaction time.

Typical Art Club meeting, conducted after school, introduces the members to better art appreciation.

One of the newest clubs at Fairmont is the Art Club. Although it was only organized during the second semester last year, already it has worked out plans for a circulating gallery of student work.

Its purposes include learning more about art, art appreciation, occupations involving art and its promotion at Fairmont. Their meetings provide a means of achieving their purposes. Members had speakers talk on the painting "The Lord's Supper" and on art in advertising. One of the most interesting meetings was the Beatnik party. Even though it is among the newer clubs at Fairmont, it is among the most creative.

Writing stimulates creativity

Creative Writers Club, a new addition to Fairmont West's activities, hopes to stimulate those with a talent for and interest in writing creative compositions. Members write original compositions ranging in scope from satire and short stories to poetry.

At bi-weekly meetings, members read and criticize each others' compositions, gaining valuable insight into the art of creating. Still in the planning stage is the publication of a special literary magazine containing examples of members' work.

Constructive criticism allows writers to add color and life to their works.

Bill Horton finds pleasure in presenting his original compositions to fellow club members.

Mr. Cal Mayne congratulates Evelyn Bearzy, business manager; and Barbara Lawhorn, advertising manager for the staff's sale of $7,000 of ads.

Many things are necessary to create a high school annual. Foremost among these is advertising. Without the civic-minded businessmen of our community, there could be no Dragon.

In 1964, the Yearbook had the largest advertising quota to meet in the school's history, yet met this goal of $6,000 by the sixth day of school. This amount has now been surpassed by well over $1,000. To the 236 advertisers, we owe our thanks.

Because of their wholehearted support, we can, for the first time, bring you an all pictorial advertising section. The Dragon Staff hopes that you, in turn, will give the advertisers your support.

Dragon Staff expresses "thanks"

Many arduous late hours of work went into the production of the 1964 edition of the DRAGON. Staff members worked diligently to give you the best yearbook yet! However, staff members are not wholly responsible for this great yearbook. Words cannot express our appreciation to the many, many members of our community who made this yearbook an actuality. We are indebted to our adviser, Mrs. Jane Nolan; administrators and faculty of the Kettering School System; Mr. and Mrs. Logan and Mr. Bill Merker of the Logan Studios who were in charge of Senior Class pictures; Delmar Studios for underclass pictures; Mr. Matt McCormick and Mr. Terry Hirtzinger representing Taylor Publishing Company; advertisers, business, professional and parent patrons and the student body of Fairmont West. To all of you, we say "THANK YOU!"

On these pages, through photography and the hard, tiring work of the staff, you have relived Fairmont West High School 1963 through 1964 with us.

To you, the students, we dedicate this yearbook, hoping this picture story of your campus days will long live in your hearts.

We have looked to the West

Hushed silence falls over the Fairmont Campus as last good-byes are said to the many priceless memories of this year. For a moment let us reflect upon these happenings and relive them in our hearts.

Remembering the crisp autumn days, we can still feel the excitement mount as we approach the Chaminade and Troy football games, hear the cheerleaders in central lobby, the crowd at the games and see the band and rhythmettes perform . . . senior boys knowing all the time that this is the last year to bring the MVL title home. Cross country had a job to tackle which was not an easy one. Girls hockey team fought for the numerical 58-0 record which had taken eight years to acquire. There were many happy victories and some sad defeats.

Making the float, anticipating the bonfire, "the dance," the sparkling happiness in Gloria's eyes as she was crowned Homecoming Queen, seem now to be in the distant past.

Yes, people at Fairmont had their fun and problems but Fairmont with the rest of the nation stood in a national crisis on November 22, 1963. She stood stunned and students speechless as the death of the President of the United States, John F. Kennedy, was announced by Mr. Wagner. A great man had died—no one knew what to say.

When the seasons changed, the basketball team looked for a fighting year. Basketball challenged the coach, the players, the cheerleaders as well as the student body of Fairmont. It was work and hard practices which paid off in the end.

After months of hard work, Logan Studios delivered the Senior pictures. Throughout the week there was mass confusion as these pictures were exchanged. Perhaps, for the first time seniors realized graduation was not too far in the distant future.

Changing of classes seemed to go faster as the Christmas holidays drew near. Fairmont music and speech departments presented the annual Christmas assembly. Those working on the decorations for the Senior Dance realized the reindeer were made "to order" and the "Silver Bells" rang out a wonderful time.

Christmas was a special, friendly time. For the foreign exchange students Carlos Couto and Carolyn Smith, it was a time to remember how their families would be celebrating Christmas across the many miles. And it was a busy time . . . there were the early, snowy Saturday mornings of getting up to go to Seminars . . . Debate and speech trips . . . Practices to attend . . . English projects were yet to be completed . . . Junior and Sophomore dances yet to be planned . . . Club activities were yet to be planned for the new year . . . and meeting newspaper and yearbook deadlines.

1964 had a dramatic opening as teachers and students prepared for semester exams . . . Seniors and Juniors chosen for TK and Quill and Scroll had an unequaled pride which could only be seen through a smile . . . FBLA convention in Cincinnati would soon take place and the departures for those going to New York, Switzerland and Spain would soon become a reality.

1963-64 passed all too quickly as we remember the Senior Class Play, Esther, with an enthusiastic cast, written and produced by Miss Funck . . . the hilarious production by the Juniors of "Charley's Aunt."

In the spring came the long awaited, Broadway production, "Bye, Bye, Birdie" with a gigantic cast which performed to a "standing room only" audience for a period of five nights. Ovation of these productions can still be felt ringing in our hearts.

Selecting class rings . . . senior pictures . . . ordering announcements . . . measuring for cap and gowns . . . the Prom . . . Yes, commencement is drawing near. For seniors, the sun is quickly setting in the "WEST," but for each setting sun there will be a new horizon; a horizon that opens to greater and more challenging responsibilities. Fairmont West has prepared us for this all important step. At Fairmont we learned to live as a community—each student a citizen.

Seniors, the world is ours—with faith, perseverance, and courage we can mold it to our desire. Accept this once-in-a-lifetime chance!
